Lorne Henry Hepworth was born on December 20, 1947 in Assiniboia, Saskatchewan. He received his primary and secondary education there before attending the University of Regina and University of Saskatchewan. Hepworth married Fern Presber in 1970 and has two children. A veterinarian, Hepworth was first elected to the Legislative Assembly in 1982 as MLA for Weyburn. He served as Minister of Agriculture from July 15, 1983 to December 16, 1985, Minister of Energy and Mines from December 16, 1985 to November 12, 1986, and Minister of Education and Advanced Education and Manpower from November 12, 1986 to October 3, 1989.

The Hepworth papers contain original records created by Paul Schoenhals, his predecessor, and by Hepworth relating to activities as Minister of Energy and Mines. Dating from 1980 to 1986, the collection includes memoranda, correspondence, publications, briefing materials and legislation.

The collection was arranged in accordance with a classification system provided by the minister's office.

The material was donated by Hepworth to the Saskatchewan Archives Board on August 17, 1988 and assigned accession number R88-256.

ACCESS: Restricted until October 25, 2016.

Fonds Title: Lorne Hepworth fonds

Series Title: Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower 1987 series

Item Title: [Esterhazy Shoe Repair Course]

Locator: R-16087

Date(s) of Creation: [1987]

Extent of Descriptive Unit: 1 Cassette (00:55:50) : 4.75cm/sec, 1, Standard Dimensions

Scope and Content: Compilation of a CBC radio clip and phone interviews by Harry Flander, instructor of the Shoe Repair Course offered at Esterhazy in conjunction with SIAST. Compilation made in response to claims made by Brendan Balon in the radio clip that he was hired to instruct the shoe repair course and then dismissed before the course began, at which time Harry Flander was hired to teach the course. Flander aims to prove that Balon was not qualified to teach the course and that he was the better choice. Phone interviews conducted by Flander include Peter Vansentan of Edmonton, AB, Carl Wall of Dauphin, MB, and Paul Andrew and Mr. Vandenakker of the Vancouver Vocational Institute.

Restrictions: Yes - Fonds under access restriction until 25 October 2016.
