About this records creator:

Authorized Heading Stewart, William Malcolmson, 1884-1957

Brief Bio./Admin. History William Malcolmson Stewart was born in Hamilton, Ontario on November 26, 1884. He earned a Diploma in Civil Engineering from the School of Practical Science, Province of Ontario and a Bachelor's Degree in Science from the University of Toronto. Stewart moved to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan in 1909 and had a private civil engineering and land surveying practice before joining the Saskatchewan Department of Highways in 1937. He was appointed Deputy Minister of Highways in 1952, a position he held until his retirement in 1954. William Stewart died in Regina on August 22, 1957.

Biographical Sketch/Administrative History William Malcolmson Stewart was born in Hamilton, Ontario on November 26, 1884 to James and Thomasina (Malcolmson) Stewart. He received his elementary and secondary education in Hamilton and earned a Diploma in Civil Engineering from the School of Practical Science, Province of Ontario in 1906. Stewart earned a Bachelor's Degree in Science from the University of Toronto and obtained his certification as a Dominion Land Surveyor in 1909.

Between 1904 and 1909, Stewart worked as a surveyor on various projects in northern North-West Territories (later Saskatchewan) and Manitoba that included the subdivision of lands, and the location of prospective railway lines.

In 1909, Stewart moved to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan and established a civil engineering and land surveying practice, Phillips, Stewart & Lee. He was certified as a Saskatchewan Land Surveyor in 1910. Stewart contributed to the establishment of the Saskatchewan Land Surveyors' Association and served as its president in 1912. He was also part of the committee that drafted the Saskatchewan Surveys Act. He continued Phillips, Stewart & Lee and later Phillips, Stewart, Phillips until the mid-1930s. In September 1936, Stewart published an article in The Canadian Historical Review entitled "David Thompson's Surveys in the North-West" based on Stewart's research of Thompson's explorations and the fur trade.

In 1937, Stewart moved to Regina and began employment with the Government of Saskatchewan as a resident engineer with the Department of Highways. He was promoted to Maintenance Engineer in 1942 and appointed Chief Engineer in 1949. In August, 1952, Stewart was appointed Deputy Minister of Highways and held the position until his retirement on November 25, 1954. After his retirement, Stewart had a private engineering consultation practice in Regina. William Stewart died in Regina on August 22, 1957.

Stewart received many awards and honours including the Queen Elizabeth II Coronation Medal in 1953, Life Memberships to the Engineering Institute of Canada and the Association of Professional Engineers of Saskatchewan in 1954 and, also in 1954, the naming of Stewart River in northern Saskatchewan by the Government of Saskatchewan in recognition of Stewart's career as a land surveyor and civil servant.

William Stewart married Mary Annabella Turnbull in Saskatoon on May 14, 1913. They had four children: Gordon, Elizabeth, James and Helen.
